

CAPRYLIC ACID PLUS

With Garlic, Oregano, Grapefruit Seed and Green Tea

D017

Caprylic Acid is a natural dietary fatty acid which assists in the maintenance of normal intestinal micro-flora. This supplement also includes a range of other natural nutrients including garlic powder, oregano extract, grapefruit seed extract and green tea extract.

- Garlic powder: Probably one of the best-known foods associated with natural anti-fungal properties.
- Oregano extract: Another well-established herb which has been shown to possess a broad spectrum of anti-microbial activity.
- Grapefruit seed extract: Often referred to as citricidal, it has a long history of use as a cleansing agent.
- Green Tea Extract: Green tea is a natural source of catechins, considered to have anti-microbial properties.
- We recommend that this product is taken at breakfast and lunchtime and combined with one of our regular probiotic products.
